

1. General

The following notes provide a simple overview of what information we collect when you visit our website and what happens to that information. Personal data is all data that personally identifies you.

2. Privacy

We take the protection of your personal data very seriously and treat your personal data confidentially and in accordance with the statutory data protection regulations. Visiting our website is largely free of data collection. Please note, however, that data transmission over the Internet (for example, when communicating by e-mail) may have security vulnerabilities. A complete protection of the data from access by third parties is not possible.
